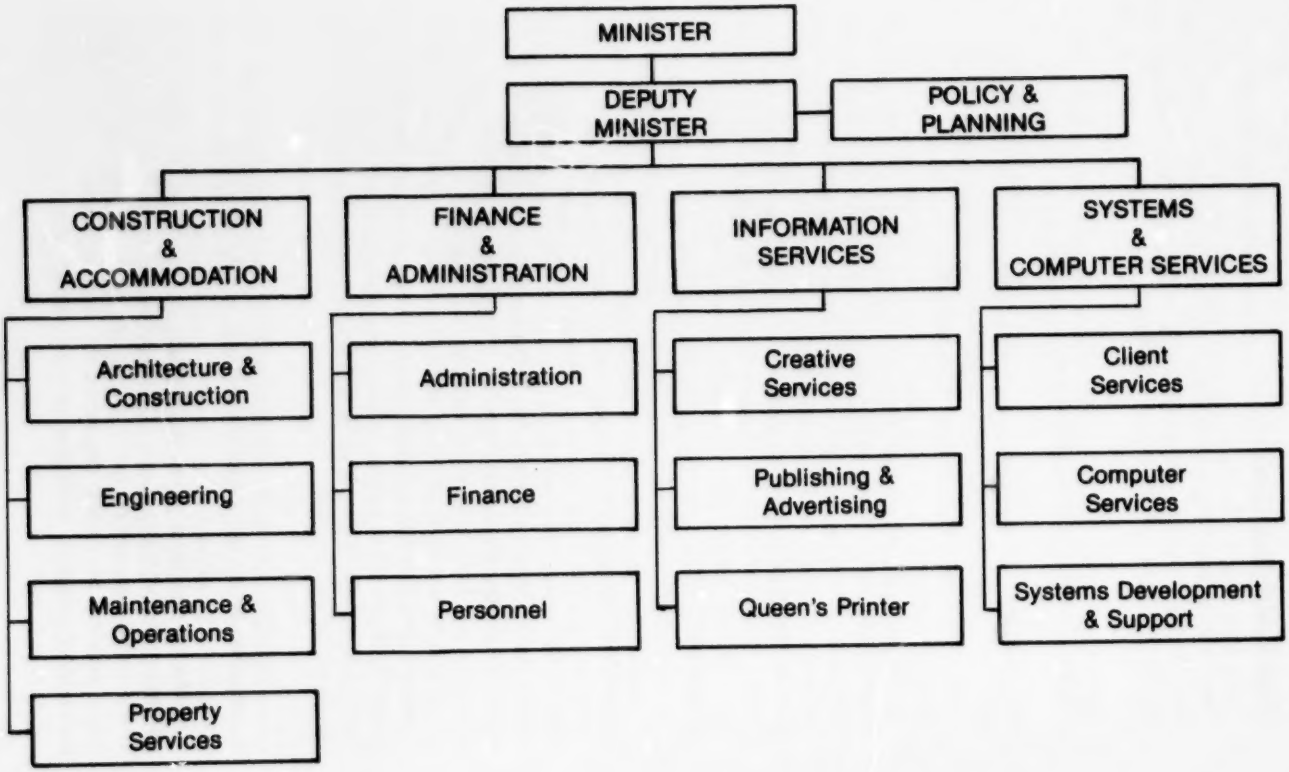
ORGANIZATIONAL CHART



POLICY AND PLANNING

This division assists the Minister and Deputy Minister of the department in establishing and implementing departmental policies and fulfilling long-range planning strategies.

FINANCE AND ADMINISTRATION

This division works in concert with the other divisions of the department to ensure a coordinated approach to consistent control and disclosure over departmental expenditures.

Besides providing everyday internal support to the department, the division administers particular common services to the government sector including public liability and related insurance. It also maintains a stationery stockroom for all departments, provides a central mail/messenger service and manages government records. During the fiscal year, the division actively reviewed microcomputer applications for various accounting functions to enhance these operations.

INFORMATION SERVICES

The Information Services Division is made up of Publishing and Advertising, Creative Services and Queen's Printer. The division provides all government departments and agencies with primary and ancillary services including advertising, graphic art and design, photography and film, printing, writing, editing, distribution of news releases and feature articles, press clippings, audio services and production of slideshows, exhibitions and displays. A public enquiries service and the Nova Scotia Government Bookstore are also operated by the division.

Publishing, Advertising, Media Services, Public Enquiries and the Bookstore all comprise Publishing and Advertising.

During the fiscal year, Publishing staff worked on 1,459 publications and commercial print items valued at more than $4 million. The internal typesetting service was upgraded to provide more efficient service to client departments and agencies. Joint book publishing projects with the private sector were also launched under the co-publishing program. The editor provided editing and writing expertise to most government departments and agencies during the year. Projects handled included informational pamphlets, Nova Scotia Travel Guide, college calendars, annual reports and copy for ads.

Advertising handled 2,615 advertising orders and placements for all media — radio, television, billboards, transit and print — averaging 50 per week.

Media Services distributed 1,845 news releases, features and advisories to media outlets during the year by Teletype, Telex, TWX and mail. Some 250 other individuals and organizations also received copies of all government releases weekly. Media Services received and sent 1,388 messages by Telex and TWX; the bulk were between provincial and federal government counterparts. In conjunction with Audio Services, the section also provided winter road reports and reports on fire hazards, produce and livestock markets, ski resort and beach conditions.

Public Enquiries answered 10,057 enquiries (written, telephone and walk-in) during the year. The unit also provided information updates on Nova Scotia for several national and international reference publications. The unit's Press Clipping Service provided 72,200 clippings from provincial and national publications to more than 20 government departments daily.

Creative Services is made up of the following sections: Art and Design, Photography, Film and Audio Services.

During the year, Art and Design handled more than 1000 assignments, including visual identity programs, major publications such as the Nova Scotia Travel Guide, and ads for various government departments and agencies.

Photographic staff completed assignments for media distribution, promotional projects, slideshows, displays, and provided special services such as print framing, photographic coverage of the Tall Ships flotilla and security identification photos for government employees. Some 620 photo assignments and 1,024 photo requests were handled during the year.

The Film Unit was involved in seven information and training films, reviewed existing materials and provided footage for a university production and the Public Archives. It was also involved in a number of special film and video projects such as the Tall Ships Race, Papal Visit, several television commercials and a television special. Stock shot material was provided to various public and private television networks.

Audio Services distributed 87 billboards containing 165 voice actualities to electronic media. The unit also produced soundtracks for slideshows, provided dubs of news cuts, handled news conference feeds, produced radio commercials and public service announcements.

Eight slideshows were produced during the fiscal year and writing services were provided for media advertising and feature articles. Seventy-eight exhibits and displays were handled for exhibitions, and departmental and window displays.

The Queen's Printer, from its Haliax location and its satellite printing plant in Truro, produced a combined total of 33,246,610 impressions during the year.

The division undertakes design projects with its own staff and engages architectural or engineering consultants from the private sector to carry out the design work under its supervision. The Systems and Computer Services Division (SCS) provides computer system development and support services to government through its Client Services and Systems Development and Support sections. The division's Computer Services Section operates the provincial government's shared-use computer and micrographics centres.

The division is also responsible for the specification and acquisition of computer-related software and hardware, including microcomputers and word processors.

The division undertook 159 projects during the year, involving both software development and equipment acquisitions. Private sector consulting firms supplemented systems development activities and 20 development contracts in 13 departments were awarded.

Computer equipment was acquired on two occasions through public tendering. These included systems for the Department of Health and the Nova Scotia Agricultural College.

One hundred twenty invitational tenders for computer terminals, microcomputers, word processors, and computer-related services were issued on behalf of 18 government departments and agencies.

As a result of the capacity planning study undertaken in 1983, the multi-year plan for computer requirements at the central data centre was approved. In June of 1984 a new central processor was installed, followed through the year with upgrades to communications equipment to support remote terminal access.

Systems and Computer Services personnel worked closely with Management Board staff in promulgating policies and guidelines related to the acquisition of data processing services and equipment, as well as the development of departmental Long Range System Plans. Staff of the division assist the EDP Advisory Committee of Management Board which monitors and controls the acquisition and implementation of automated systems.
